Wed 7/13	8:45 - 9:30 AM PT	ENGLISH	KEYNOTE SPEAKER: You have the Power of One to Make a Difference, but you need the Power of Many to keep making that difference!	Trusted relationships may be the most important variable for effective learning, leading and living for DARE educators. The traditional challenges of building relationships are based on the 4 C's: Communication, Collaboration, Cultural Competency and Caring. Today, COVID presents ongoing challenges. This motivational keynote is filled with "tips from the trenches" to help keep you and your students, staff and community safe and healthy so they can learn more and live better. It is packed with cutting-edge information, practical strategies and heartfelt stories about leadership, the whole child, mental health, kindness, the power of words, the trauma-informed brain (adverse childhood experiences), social emotional learning, stress management, wellness, and school and community climate and safety. Dr. Stephen Sroka has spoken worldwide with The Power of One message, how one person can make a difference. Steve died while presenting a school in-service. A principal, two SRO's and others saved his life and changed his message. He now talks about how you need The Power of Many, how it takes a team, to make a lasting difference. Research-based and reality-driven, this session offers honesty, humor, and hope. It stresses the importance of Resiliency and the 4 P's: Purpose, Passion, Pride and Persistence. It will warm your heart, stir your soul and ignite your brain. It has been said that it can even change your life professionally and personally. Let's see if it can spark the fire and the WHY within you.	Dr. Steve Sroka
